FINAL PAPERS REFUSED

Technicalities in Papers of Five Men Who Would Become American Citizens.

Five applicants were in court this morning presenting final papers for naturalization to F. W. Amack, naturalization examiner who is here from the St. Louis office of the department. Owing to technicalities in the papers the five men failed to receive their citizenship credentials at this time. The applicants were Max Othmer Buerkler, Hans Peter Larson, Charles Edwin Wells, F. August Engelmann and Ernest Viktor Flobeck.

Examiner Amack expressed regret at the fact that the men would not receive their citizenship papers and said appearance bespoke for them the fact that they were already good citizens. "There was no fault to find with the men themselves," said Mr. Amack, "but the department is very strict in these matters and the papers were made out in such a way as to make their rejection sure."

SHERIFF FINDS LINNINGER

A Deserter From Second Quota was Hiding Out—Goes With the Next Contingent.

Linninger was ordered to go at that time. He was an inmate at the county farm and the night before he disappeared. He has been staying at nights in a vacant house on the county farm and during the day has been hiding out. He was caught by Sheriff Dowden early this morning.

Linninger will be held at the jail until next Wednesday and will be sent with the third contingent at that time.

LASHER TRYING IT

CLASS DEMONSTRATES NEW IDEA IN AGRICULTURE STUDY.

INTO FIELDS TO STUDY

Lasher Is Second of Five County Schools to Show Practical Value of Modern Idea.

The second demonstration of the work of pupils in the new idea course in agriculture was given last night at Lasher school by members of the class before the patrons of the school district and visitors. The first demonstration of the new plan by any school in the county was given last Friday night by the class at Glendale school.

The new plan—or vitalized agriculture, as it is called—does away, to a large extent, with text books for arithmetic, grammar, composition and agriculture. They are used chiefly as reference books and the pupils get information at first hand direct from the fields and gardens. For instance, the class in agriculture goes into the corn field and learns from actual count and study just why a certain field yields but a certain per cent of a crop, how much loss there has been due to improper planting, what the loss represents in money, the proper manner of selecting and testing seed and the preservation of seed.

Study under this plan means that arithmetical problems must be worked out, that compositions must be written about the work done, which in turn, serves in part as a grammar lesson. With but three weeks of actual study members of the agriculture class at Lasher were able to present a practical knowledge of corn and its raising in a most interesting manner.

Members of the class who took part in the demonstration given last night were: Lorena Goff, Marie Deneen and Donald Williams, who told how they had determined the stand of corn in various fields; Lucile Masters and George Knepper gave a demonstration of corn stringing and teams from Lasher and Belle Grove schools contested for honors in the quickest stringing. John Knepper and Pearl Deneen represented the Lasher class and Frank Cooper and Laura Belle Nicholas, the Belle Grove class.

Olivette Barrow read a poem, "The Calf Patch."

A large number of residents of the school district were present, despite bad roads, and gave their endorsement to the new idea of vitalized agriculture. Superintendent Bert Cooper explained the reasons for the new plan being tried in but five schools in the county this year, pointing out that after it had proven its worth—as it already has—that more schools would be included next year. The new plan does not contemplate a set program for all schools alike, but must needs be worked out by each individual teacher as conditions in the several localities require. Miss Ruby Ruddle is the teacher at Lasher.

BETTER PICTURES IS AIM

Sale of Season Tickets To Film Course at the Christian Church Assures Success.

Motion pictures will be shown in a Maryville church for the first time Monday night when "The Vicar of Wakefield," a seven-reel masterpiece, with the great actor Frederick Warde in the title role, will be shown on a screen at the First Christian church. The church has taken up moving pictures as an adjunct of its work in an effort to secure better and cleaner pictures at a nominal price.

With the sale of several hundred season tickets to a twelve-picture course the success of the venture is already assured. Those who think to see something inferior in the moving picture line will be disappointed. While the picture and Mr. Warde speak for itself, the projection apparatus will be of the most modern pattern. A large screen eleven by twelve feet, made of smooth beaver board and treated with paint to give the best results will occupy a place in front of the organ, while suitable music will add interest to the picture. The arrangements for the course are permanent and some masterpieces on film will be seen this winter, two pictures each month. General admission has been placed at ten and fifteen cents.

HOLKER WINS VERDICT

Damage Suit Brought By Bessie Coleman Fails to Interest Jury — Other Court Matters.

French Brown, of Burlington Junction, charged with the murder of Lon Lyle, who died following an altercation between the two men on June 11 near the Junction was brought before the court yesterday and pleaded not guilty. His bond was fixed at $15,000, as formerly, with the following men qualifying as sureties: Mike McGettigan, Jesse Burr, H. E. Bancroft, W. T. Aesdale, J. A. Griffey, Estol Bever, C. A. Burr, C. S. Johnson, Geo. E. Ripley, Fred and Ed Griffey, J. W. Middlebrook, Amos Hugo, Howard Garrett, Samuel Taylor, F. C. Newbro, G. McClure, Roy F. Hansen, W. G. Pruett, Guy Clary.

A jury in the case of Bessie E. Coleman against Joseph Holker returned a verdict in favor of the defendant. The action was brought by the Coleman girl to reimburse her in the sum of $5,040 for services in taking care of an invalid child of the defendant. The defendant was able to show that the full remuneration had been given the plaintiff for her services. The Holker and Coleman families are related.

Izola Shelton was given a divorce this morning by Judge Dawson from Frank C. Shelton. The divorced wife is barely more than a little girl, having been married when she was fourteen years old and lived with her husband a little over a year. Abandonment and indignities were given as the reason for divorce. Mrs. Shelton was given the care of their infant child.

On trial before a jury today is the case of E. H. Wilson against the Bank of Conception on a charge of libel and damages are asked in the sum of $5,000. Basis for the action is alleged to have been contained in a letter from the defendant.

The young man, associate counsel with Ellis Cook in the case, introduced himself to the jurors and took up a discussion of the case in a manner that would do credit to an old practitioner. Mr. Fuqua who is twenty-five years old, awaits a call to join the colors, being one of the selected men in the draft, and is here meanwhile, visiting his sister, Mrs. Ellis Cook.

HUNTERS WARNED

DEPUTY GAME WARDEN GIBBS HUNTS LAW VIOLATORS.

ASKS CITIZENS TO HELP

Only On Information Furnished is He Able to Secure Results in Reaching Offenders.

"I wish that the real sportsmen of Nodaway county, the men who want to see the fish and wild game protected would give me their co-operation in locating and helping punish offenders against the game laws." The speaker was Alex Gibbs, recently appointed deputy state game warden for Nodaway, Atchison, Holt, Worth and Gentry counties who came to Maryville this morning to investigate reports of unlawful fishing and hunting.

Mr. Gibbs says that the only means of running down persons who hunt out of season and without licenses, who dynamite and seine streams for fish, is through information furnished him by those who are interested in the protection of the wild game and fish.

"It is unreasonable to think that one man can cover five counties and find out all the offenders alone," said Mr. Gibbs, "and I am going to depend on the help of the citizens." The pay of deputy game warden is in fees and Mr. Gibbs is engaged in the work, not for the small remuneration, but because he wants to see the game saved for those who will protect it. Mr. Gibbs says the open season for quail, November 10 to December 31 will be watched and violators of the law will be punished as often as found. Duck hunting will come under the ban also when the time limit is up.

Mr. Gibbs believes that the number of licenses in no way represents the number who hunt and advises all who go out for a bag, to be sure and have a license. He will be glad to have reports of any violation of the law, and letters to him at Tarkio will be appreciated.

Mr. Gibbs is an ardent sportsman and a believer in the conservation of game and fish. He is a charter member of the Ananias club (and he says it is well named at that) of Tarkio, whose efforts to stock the streams in that vicinity with game fish have been most successful. He advises the organization of clubs to secure fish from the state hatchery to stock the streams and lakes in Nodaway county.

A request was sent by the committee to the Red Cross headquarters for a worker to be sent here to inaugurate the work. It is expected she will be here at least two weeks. Reckless Abandon and Frenzied Determination Show Desperation of German Troops.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

London, Sept. 28.—Germany has secretly communicated to the Pope that the Central Powers will go much further to obtain peace than the formal reply to the Pope's peace note indicated, according to Rome dispatches.

London, Sept. 28.—The German counter attack delivered during the night near Zonnebeke was completely smashed, according to the official statement from the war office. The statement also says that the only isolated points now offering resistance are in the region south. Tower hamlets and Pollygon woods have been cleared of the enemy.

With reckless abandon and frenzied determination the German commander sent regiment after regiment in massed divisions against the non-resisting and solidly planted British-Australian line only to see a few who returned climbing high over the bullet riddled bodies of their comrades. The British held every position they captured.

The German losses are declared to be the heaviest ever paid in such a short period.

Petrograd, Sept. 28.—General Korniloff and other high officers who were implicated in the revolt have been transferred from headquarters to Bykhoem in the province of Mohilev. General Volohsenko has been appointed commander of the armies on the southwestern front to replace General Denikin, who was dismissed for his part in the Korniloff revolt. Dispatches from Helsingfors tell of great excitement there today following a call by Talman, of the Diet, for a session, which, according to the call, should convene at noon today. There is no secret to the fact that it is a plan of Talman and his followers to take further steps to separate Finland from Russia. The call is in direct opposition to the will of the Russian provisional government and premier Kerensky is determined to prevent the session, even if military force must be used.

What It Costs to Produce a Soldier

By JOHN C. MELLET

Washington, Sept. 28.—It costs more to make a soldier in some parts of the United States than it does in others.

This may sound queer to the layman, who thinks that because Uncle Sam buys supplies at uniform prices for all parts of the country, and pays the same salaries everywhere, soldiers should cost no more in one region than in another.

The highest per capita cost in turning out soldiers is $182. You'd never guess where this price obtains. New York, your choice? Guess again. Michigan and Massachusetts, with Camps Custer and Devens respectively in the national army, are tied at the high mark.

It is cheapest at American Lake, Wash., where Uncle Sam's soldiers cost him only $142 each.

Here is the way the sixteen cantonments rank in per capita cost for soldiers, from lowest cost to highest:

Camp Lewis, American Lake, Wash., $142.

Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va., $146.

Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., $149.

Camp Gordon, Atlanta, Ga., $146.

Camp Pike, Little Rock, Ark., $151.

Camp Funston, Fort Riley, Kan., $153.

Camp Travis, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, $156.

Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C., $157.

Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Ia., $158.

Camp Meade, Annapolis Junction, Md., $158.

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., $164.

Camp Upton, Yaphank, Long Island, $165.

Camp Dix, Wrightstown, N. J., $167.

Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., $170.

Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass., $182.

Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich., $182.

These figures are part of a budget submitted by the War Department to the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives, in asking for money to outfit and train the national army.

No specific effort was made to explain the difference in the per capita cost of the new soldiers, but other figures submitted clear the mystery. Many of the set expenses are identical the country over, but others vary widely.

No great difference is seen in regular supplies, barracks and quarters, shooting ranges and clothing. But in such items as water and sewers, wherein the topography of the country about the cantonment is an important factor, there is wide variance. Again, in the case of roads, wharves, walks and drainage, there is a big range.

In the case of hospitals to be constructed or repaired, there is great diversity. Camp Funston, at Fort Riley, found hospitals in good condition and required a very small expenditure, comparatively. The same was true of Camp Gordon, at Atlanta.

A LETTER FROM CHAS. KANE

Gives Graphic Account of a Night of Excitement As Airplanes Whirred Overhead.

In Camp, Sunday, September 2, 1917.

My Dear Mother:

It will be a one-folder tonight, because I sent you nearly everything I knew a few days ago, and I haven't had much chance to learn anything since. We've stuck around camp, and today I missed my first real chance to make a Sunday trip. The cars up to number sixteen went out from 1 p. m. to 8 p. m., and our car is number seventeen. The stay-at-homes took a little light exercise by scrubbing out our camp kitchen. Think of it, missing a trip we really wanted to take and then having to play chambermaid for a French cook! War is not all glory.

The guns are busy tonight, for this front is extremely active.

Something between eighty and a hundred camions from this village hauled trench bombs today, and tonight just before dark, we saw red green rockets going up on the horizon, signals of a German gas attack. Hope it isn't the kind said to be effective up to thirty kilometers, nearly twenty miles! Ten miles would get us, I figure.

I'm sending you a clipping from the Paris edition of the New York Herald, today's issue. Thought it might interest you. With it I'm sending the latest copy of the American Field Service Bulletin, which still gives most of its space to the ambulance side, the older branch of the service.

Great excitement! Bright moonlight night and a German plane just hummed over our heads on its way to Paris or somewhere else away from the front. Searchlights everywhere, and rockets being sent up right near us to locate him. Lights out in all our remorques, of course, and everybody scrambles out to get a look and then scrambles back to put on helmets as a guard against falling shrapnel. Heard him real plainly, but he must have been looking for bigger game. All normal again.

Everything now points to our being taken over in a few weeks by the U. S. government. The Y. M. C. A. man down in the village is said to have it pretty officially, and says that notices are up in some of the other camps, telling the fellows they'll have to decide in three weeks to stay in or get out. I'll probably stick.

The Saturday Evening Post has been carrying a mighty good line of articles by Will Irwin. Reading them will give you a better idea of the war than I can. At the top of the fourth column on page forty-four of the August 18 issue he gives us honorable mention, and Leslie's Magazine (of August 2, I believe) has a picture of the American Barracks being used in France—they're just like what we lived in at the Princeton Camp. It won't be long before I'll have some pictures of my own to send.

Well the other fellows in this remorque are turning in, and I'm afraid my acetylene light may keep them awake, so good night.

Your loving son,

CHARLES E. KANE.

TO TRAIN TEACHERS IN VOCATIONAL SUBJECTS

Missouri High and Normal Schools Will Take Advantage of the New Federal Bill.

In order to secure a definite program for the training of teachers in the High schools and Normal schools of the state for vocational subjects, President Ira Richardson, of the Normal school, was in Jefferson City last week in conference with State Superintendent Uel L. Lamkin and presidents of other Normal schools relative to the plan to be submitted to the federal board in Washington, to carry out the provisions of the national act.

By a bill passed by the Sixty-fourth National Congress on February 23, 1917, the national government provides for the promotion of vocational education through co-operation with the states in promoting such education in agriculture and in trades and industries and also, in co-operation with the states, for preparation of teachers of vocational subjects, and made appropriations to carry this out, dependent upon action by the several states. By a bill passed by the legislature of Missouri in its last session, Missouri was the first state in the Union to pass an enabling act to meet this provision. While no appropriation was made, yet the State Board of Education, as constituted in our present law, was made a state board to co-operate with the Federal Board for vocational education in the administration of the national act.

One phase of the movement is to provide vocational instruction in the subjects mentioned in the High schools of our state. Another phase of the work is to prepare teachers for these subjects. The state normal schools and the university are designated as institutions for the training of teachers. Provisions may be made for the training of teachers of trade subjects in cities of seventy-five thousand or more inhabitants.

Definite plans for courses of study in the several High schools, qualifications of teachers, and the requirements governing the training of teachers for these subjects in the Normal schools of the state were prepared and will be presented to the Federal Board by State Superintendent Lamkin in accordance with the terms of the enabling act passed by the Missouri legislature.

The controlling purpose of this phase of education, which is to be administered by our present educational organization, is to fit for profitable employment and should be of large consequence in the future.

The delicately chiselled lines of her features bear a resemblance to the sculptural masterpieces of the world's greatest artists. ## NORMAL NOTES
William Van Cleve.

A further step in standardizing the work of the Normal in adopting the plan of having only four recitations per week in each subject. This system is in force in most of the other schools of the state and is a popular innovation with the students.

The regular assembly of the week is held at 9 o'clock on Tuesday and all classes are dismissed during that hour. Classes beginning at 2:20 are also dismissed on Tuesday and that period is set aside for class meetings.

Classes beginning at 11 o'clock are dismissed on Wednesday when the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. hold their meetings. Literary societies hold their meetings at the period set aside at 3:20 o'clock on Thursday. Faculty meetings are held at 1:20 o'clock Mondays and a special assembly is held at 10 o'clock on each Friday.

* * *

The special assembly on Friday is another innovation which promises to prove popular with the students. The meeting will be given over to Miss Helen Zenor, the new instructor in music and the entire period will be spent in singing. Miss Zenor spoke at assembly Tuesday and made a great hit with the students.

How Long Must I Suffer From the Pangs of Rheumatism?

Is there no real relief in sight?

Doubtless like other sufferers, you have often asked yourself this question, which continues to remain unanswered.

Science has proven that your Rheumatism is caused by a germ in your blood, and the only way to reach it is by a remedy which eliminates and removes these little pain demons from your blood. This explains why liniments and lotions can do no permanent good, for they cannot possibly reach these germs which infest your blood by the millions.

S. S. S. has been successfully used for Rheumatism for more than fifty years. Try it to-day, and you will find yourself at last on the right track to get rid of your Rheumatism. You can get valuable advice about the treatment of your individual case by writing to the Chief Medical Adviser, Swift Specific Co., Dept. D Atlanta, Ga.

Bevo is a great favorite in the Army Canteens, where none but pure, soft drinks may be sold. After drill or march, you are sure to see a long line of hot and dusty-throated soldier boys making a bee line for Bevo. They know that there lies complete satisfaction, full refreshment and pure wholesomeness.

At home or abroad—at work or play—between meals or with meals, you will appreciate what we have done for you in making this triumph in soft drinks.

You will find Bevo at inns, restaurants, groceries, department and drug stores, picnic grounds, baseball parks, soda fountains, dining cars, in the navy, at canteens, at mobilization camps and other places where refreshing beverages are sold.

Bevo—the all-year-'round soft drink

Guard against substitutes. Have the bottle opened in front of you, first seeing that the seal is unbroken and that the crown top bears the Fox. Sold in bottles only, and bottled exclusively by
